Do selectmen "meddle" or "supervise" in the administration of the town?

And, does articulation and tone of voice play a part in commentary on managerial decisions?

These were among the "issues" discussed during a conference session of the selectmen Monday night, prompted by the opinion of Selectmen Edward M. Harris and Albert Cole that Selectman Richard Bowen had been overly critical of the manager a week previous.

The whole matter became an issue when Chairman Susan T. Poore informed the board that Town Manager J. Maynard Austin had indicated he had become somewhat "gun shy," due to decisions of the board in recent weeks.

Among the issues was the commentary by Bowen at last week's meeting that $27,000 was too much to pay for engineering supervisory services in connection with the installation of a new water line in the River Road area.

Bowen had voted no on the awarding of a $290,000 bond issue, based principally on the engineering services.

Harris told Bowen he didn't think "you should have bawled him (the manager) out about it," adding that as a result of the meeting the manager was not comfortable with the vote.

Harris and Cole expressed the opinion that such a thing as awarding a contract was an administrative matter and that the manager only had to inform the board of his actions.

Cole said "some board members have been criticizing the manager constantly."

Bowen asked him to be specific and added "My criticism in the contract award was legitimate, and I think we can disagree legitimately."

Cole said the board had told the manager it wanted to be kept informed on matters, "and when he informs us we criticize after the action. That's bad."

Selectman Philip Salamone asked "where do you separate legitimate practice and when do you peer in afterwards?" Chairman Poore commented "the

Co-Op Shares To Be Returned Soon

Members of the Andover Consumers Co-Operative can expect to be receiving their stockholder shares within the next 60 to 90 days, according to officials handling the business of closing the accounts of the former Main street supermarket.

Atty Alfred L. Daniels, president, and Kenneth P. Thompson, treasurer, said this week that the delays in returning the funds to the stockholders, has been caused by the necessity to find some agency to take over the pension fund for employees entitled to such benefits. The pension benefit must meet with the approval of the Pension Loan Guarantee Fund division of the federal government.

Daniels and Thompson said that they had finally negotiated a contract with Aetna Insurance company and received government approval. A check was sent last week to the First National Bank of Boston in the amount of $7,790.02 to bring the pension fund up to the required amount.

Thompson advised that any stockholder who has had a change of address or lost stock certificates, should notify the Andover Consumers Co-Op by writing to Post Office Box 250, Andover, 01810.

As soon as the final figures are determined, the expenses paid, a letter will be sent to all stockholders informing them of the process of redeeming their shares.

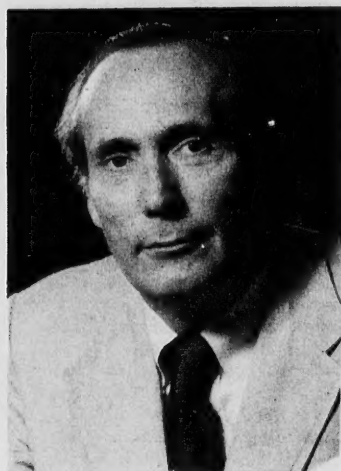

All of the Co-Op money has been in savings accounts in the Andover Savings Bank and the Arlington Trust Co., with a minimum amount maintained in a checking account to cover minor operational expenses during the period after the store closed to the present time.

Thompson said that it would appear that everyone would be getting the share value returned along with some interest, but the amount could not be determined at this point due to the final figures not yet being available.

The Co-Op was closed by a vote of the annual meeting two years ago. The business and building at Chestnut and Main streets was subsequently sold to Barcelos Brothers.

Maine Editor To Be Speaker For V.I.P.

John N. Cole

John N. Cole, editor of The Maine Times, popular Maine weekly, will be the speaker at a garden party for the benefit of the Volunteer Inservice Program. The party will be held from 4 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. on Aug. 5, at the home of Mr. and Mrs.

Ashton Smith, 158 Dale Street, North Andover. Greater Lawrence residents are invited to attend, and can make reservations by calling the V.I.P. office at 38 Lawrence St., Lawrence.

Cole, in addition to his work as a journalist, is actively involved in the field of conservation. He has written two books: "In Maine: Of all the winds that blow I like the northwest best," Dutton, 1974, and "From the ground up" published in 1976. Both books emphasize the human need to live in harmony with nature. He has also published numerous magazine articles, all supporting conservation.

The speaker has served as chairman of the Brunswick Town Common Committee, a group organized to protect and preserve 70 acres of open land in central Brunswick, and as chairman of the town's Shellfish Conservation Committee. Mr. Cole is a member of the state's Natural Resources Council, the Baxter State Park advisory committee, and is a consultant and friend of the Maine Coast Heritage Trust - a land easement advisory service founded by Mrs. Davis Rockefeller.

A past president of Allagash Group, Cole still serves on the board of that group which is an environmental group operating under the auspices of the University of Maine. He was recently appointed by the Secretary of the Interior to the nine-member National Park Advisory Council, North Atlantic Region. He is on the New England Regional Energy Council, a member of the National Audubon Society and also serves as a director of the Center for Constructive Change in Durham, N.H.

In the field of journalism, Cole received the Yankee Quill Award from the New England Academy of Journalists and the Missouri Medal for Journalism, both on behalf of The Maine Times.

The topic of his talk on Aug. 5th will be "Volunteers of the Future".

Gallagher on Patrol in Atlantic Coast Guard Fireman Damage Controlman Brian J. Gallagher, son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Gallagher of 29 Russell St., North Andover, is currently on an off-shore fisheries patrol in the Atlantic.

He is serving as a crewmember aboard the Coast Guard cutter Hamilton, homeported in Boston.

During the three-week patrol, his ship will conduct surveillance operations with Coast Guard aircraft to enforce international treaties and U. S. laws, including the 200-mile fisheries conservation zone. Additionally this summer, his ship will participate in an oceanographic research survey.

The Hamilton is a 378-foot long, high endurance cutter and carries a crew of 155 officers and enlisted men. She is outfitted with guns, torpedo tubes and can accommodate a search and rescue helicopter.

A 1975 graduate of North Andover High School, he joined the Coast Guard in July 1976.

Swearing In Ceremony On Agenda

Formal appointment and swearing in of William T. Down as the new Andover fire chief will be among the top items on Monday's agenda for the selectmen when they meet in Memorial Hall library at 7:30 p.m.

Selectman plan to conduct the ceremony and brief reception for relatives, friends and the general public at the beginning of the Monday session. The ceremony was suggested by Selectman Richard J. Bowen who noted at the last meeting that it is not often that a town has a new fire chief and that such an appointment should be observed appropriately.

Bush To Be Appointed Deputy

Lt. Robert Bush will be promoted to the rank of deputy fire chief by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin.

The town manager indicated this week that he planned to elevate Bush to that rank, following formal notification and approval by Civil Service.

Bush was second on the civil service list for promotion and will take the place of William Downs who has been elevated to chief. Harold Wright, first man on the promotional list was elevated to deputy chief earlier, and replaced Deputy Chief Albert Cole who retired over a year ago.

Bush has been a member of the Andover department since 1966 and has been a lieutenant since January of 1969.

No Water Problems

Boston Globe reports and comments by Secretary of Environmental Affairs Evelyn Murphy to the contrary, Andover has no water problems, as evidenced by the draft on the supply during the current hot spell.

The Globe and Ms. Murphy raised the dander of local officials with recent articles putting Andover in a class with several communities facing water problems.

Emphasizing that Andover has no problems and that money spent on the construction of the water treatment plant has insured that, Public Works Director Robert E. McQuade noted that an average of six million gallons of water per day is being pumped through the town system during the hot spell.

Average daily consumption is four million gallons.

Peak production was reached a year ago when nine million gallons were placed through the system on some days when Andover was feeding other nearby communities.

Country Club Gets License Approval

The New Indian Ridge Country Club received approval of a common victualler and alcoholic beverages license from the selectmen Monday night and a one-day license for a special member-guest tournament to be held Saturday.

Concern for safety along the roadway leading into the country club, expressed by neighbors at the meeting of the selectmen a week ago was addressed by Atty. Curtis Monday night.

Counsel said that the manager John L. Vinios, had placed notices in the locker rooms at the club asking members to drive carefully and be aware of children in the area. He also said signs would be posted along the road and that contact would be made with the housing developer to get the roadway into condition which would allow acceptance by the town.

The selectmen were also provided with a listing of the officers of the new country club, taken over by the DeMoulas family in April at auction.

Arthur T. DeMoulas of Ithaca Place, Andover, is president, treasurer and sole stockholder, David P. Lane, 145 Warren Ave., Chelmsford, clerk and sole director and John L. Vinios, 31 Arlington St., Lowell is the general manager.

Applicants Sought For Appointments

Selectman and town manager are still interested in receiving applications for appointment to municipal boards, committees and positions.

Cohen Is Praised For Stand

A coalition of state-wide municipal groups publicly applauded the vote of Representative Gerald M. Cohen (D-Andover) in opposing extension of compulsory and binding arbitration in its present form.

The arbitration law, renewed by the legislature last week over a veto by the Governor, will continue to allow an outside arbitrator to set wages, salaries and working conditions for municipal firemen and policemen if there is an impasse between the union and municipal government. Such groups as the Massachusetts Selectmen's Association, the League of Cities and Towns, Mayor's Association and Municipal Management Association were joined by chambers of commerce and taxpayers groups in opposing the law.

"We have thanked individually every representative and senator who voted against this costly law," President Haden Greenhalgh of the Selectmen's group said, "and we want their constituents to know that these men and women were trying to prevent local real estate tax rates from climbing sharply."

Local officials have compiled statistics to show that the law, in its first three-year trial period, raised police and fire salaries "excessively", resulted in wage settlements in many cases that exceeded the cost of living, and had the "spillover" effect of escalating salaries of other municipal employees. "All of this has the most direct and serious effect on local tax rates," Greenhalgh noted. "The vote of this legislator and the others who tried to uphold the Governor's veto, was aimed at trying to control local real estate taxes and bring control over local budgets back to municipal officials," he added.

The municipal groups have already begun work on an initiative petition to put the matter of compulsory and binding on the ballot in the November of 1978 state elections. "In our view, the failure of the legislature as a whole to act responsibly on this issue makes it mandatory that we give the people a chance to act by voting on the matter themselves," he said. Forty-five town meetings, representing well over half a million people have already gone on record opposing the law, Greenhalgh concluded.

Recycling Program In Fifth Year

As Andover's curbside pickup recycling program begins its fifth year, comparison statistics are interesting.

The overall tonnage remains about constant: 1156 tons in 1973, 1189 tons in 1974, 1289 tons in 1975 and 1219 tons in 1976. While the money received for the papers, glass and cans sold varies from a high of $22,000 in 1973 to a low of $11,000 in 1974, 1976's total has started up again with $17,769 received in fiscal 76-77.

1200 tons of rubbish which is neither buried nor burned but saved for reuse also will save

Andover $11,000 per year in tipping fees for disposal at landfill or incinerators. The cost to the town of the recycling pickup was $7000 last year. This cost is $4000 less than the cost of disposal with the regular trash as projected by the new regional disposal center.

The environmental benefits are many. Paper may be reused several times in boxes and cardboard before it is eventually burned for heat. Metals in short supply may be reused to lessen the costs of new products and to lessen dependence on other countries. Much less energy is used in making glass from reprocessed glass than starting from scratch.

The economic facts are clear also.

If Andover recycled twice as much as it does now, instead of a cost to the town of $7000 for the program there would be a direct profit of $10,000 plus a lessening cost of regular rubbish disposal. About one third of Andover's households recycle. What about the other two thirds? In Andover these things are made easy for you. Paper is picked up July 18-22 and again Aug. 2-5 and 16-20. Clear glass and cans are picked up Aug. 9-12. Colored glass and cans are picked up July 25-28 and Aug. 23-26.

Put your recyclables at the curb in brown grocery bags on your regular trash pickup day.

Two Men Rescued From Tank

Two Andover firefighters, assigned to ambulance duty, are credited with probably saving the life of a Lawrence man overcome by fumes while painting a tank Friday.

William Morris and James Landry, trained emergency medical technicians, responded to a call to the site of the building renovation for the Essex-Broadway bank on North Main Street, where they found James Gilbert of Lawrence overcome by fumes from epoxy being applied to the inside of an underground tank.

An airfed helmet used by Gilbert had apparently become loose thus causing the loss of air.

Gilbert's partner, Guy LeBel, of Lawrence, was above the tank and noticed the trouble. He stopped a passing motorist to summon assistance then went into the tank to provide aid.

Both Gilbert and LeBel were taken to Lawrence General Hospital for treatment.

Loesser Musical At Beverly

Chester Ludgin and Jo Sullivan star in Frank Loesser's award-winning musical, "The Most Happy Fella", is at the North Shore Music-Theatre in Beverly for two melodious weeks.

When it opened on Broadway in 1956, "The Most Happy Fella" was hailed as a major triumph for Loesser, whose previous hits included "Guys and Dolls" and "Where's Charley?" It actually beat out "My Fair Lady" to win the Drama Critics Circle Award as best musical of the season. Loesser's rich score contains over 35 musical numbers; some thast made it to the hit parade are "Standing on the Corner," "Big D" and, of course, the title song.

Leading lady Jo Sullivan created the role of Rosa in the original New York production and, later, became Mrs. Frank Loesser. Mr. Ludgin has an impressive singing background with the New York City and the San Francisco Opera companies.

Evening performances at the air conditioned Music-Theatre are at 8, with matinees Wednesdays and Saturdays at 2. Loesser's merry musical about the good-hearted wine grower and the mail order bride who learns to love him will continue at Beverly's popular summer theatre through July 30. On Aug. 1 award winning actress Sandy Dennis and Gale Sondergaard begin a one-week engagement in the Kaufman and Ferber Comedy hit, "The Royal Family."

Children have a treat in store on Thursday, July 21, when the Music-Theatre presents a professionally staged musical version of "Heidi" at 9:30 and 11:30 a.m.

The North Shore Music-Theatre is located just off Rt. 128 at exit 19 in Beverly.

Named To Task Force

Harold Walker

Harold Walker of Andover, associate professor of Physical Education at Northeastern University, has been appointed to the newly-created University Task Force on the Handicapped. The charge of the Task Force will be to study and evaluate the recent H.E.W. regulations, designed to carry out Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, which bans discrimination against persons with physical, mental or psychological disabilities.

The Task Force will also assess Northeastern's current policies, programs and facilities and make specific recommendations to upgrade the quality of life for handicapped students and staff.

The Task Force will supplement Northeastern's Committee on the Handicapped, which has been working since 1974 to make long-range recommendations and develop on-going programs.

Heart Fund Appreciative

Charles A. Ellis, Jr., M.D., president, American Heart Association, Northeast Massachusetts Division announced the 1977 Heart Fund Campaign results in Andover totaled $14,300.75. Doctor Ellis expressed his appreciation to Rep. Gerald Cohen, 1977 General Chairman, his entire committee, and the residents of Andover for their continued support of the Heart Association. He also thanked the Andover Townsman for their fine efforts in presenting the Heart story to the public.

LEGAL NOTICE GREATER LAWRENCE SANITARY DISTRICT PUBLIC HEARING

The Greater Lawrence Sanitary District proposes to amend its current Rules and Regulations, Adopted June 1971, Amended December 9, 1971 to include the method for processing and payment of Septage Waste within the District's member communities (City of Lawrence, the Towns of Andover, Methuen and North Andover) including the following Appendix C.

Rules and Regulations For The Discharge of Septage

1. Any hauler who wishes to avail themselves of the opportunity to discharge septage wastes must apply and be granted a permit by the District.

A. Only haulers who are licensed by a Community within the District will be considered.

B. Septage from domestic sources will be accepted from the towns of North Andover, Andover, Methuen and the City of Lawrence. Septage from other communities will not be accepted.

C. Septage will be accepted during the hours of 8:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M., Monday through Friday.

D. Haulers will be responsible to see that septage does not leak onto the ground near the discharge points and that all exposed areas are washed to remove traces of septage where odors might develop.

2. Ticket books will be on sale during the regular hours at the District offices, or obtained by mailing a certified bank check in the amount of $150.00 made payable to Greater Lawrence Sanitary District.

A. These books will contain ten tickets. Each ticket, when properly filled out with the names and addresses of where the septage was picked up will permit the hauler to discharge a load up to 2200 gallons.

B. All haulers will report when they arrive at the Plant to the office or notify the Operating personnel that they wish to discharge the contents of their truck.

1. They will leave a ticket properly filled out including the names and addresses of where the load was obtained, with the authorized District representative.

2. Failure to do this in a prescribed manner or any known attempt to fraudulently report the source of the septage will be cause to revoke the haulers permit to discharge into the Greater Lawrence Sanitary District facility.

3. Industrial users who wish to use the Plant facilities will contact the District for permission to discharge. They will submit a representative sample to the District along with an analysis of the wastes performed by a private and responsible laboratory. If permission is granted by the District, a fair price for each load will be arbitrated. The continuance to discharge will be at the pleasure of the District and will depend on the fact that no detrimental effect on plant operations is experienced. In this case the industry will be billed each month for the loads discharged.

A Public Hearing will be held on Tuesday, August 30, 1977 in the conference room of the Administration Building at 7:30 P.M., Charles Street, North Andover.

Implementation of this amendment will take effect immediately upon approval of the District Commission.

Presents Article at Symposium

Harry McCormick of 4 Elysian Drive, Andover, represented the Defense Logistics Agency (DLA) and presented his article entitled "Workload Assessment and Manpower in DCASR Boston's Production Division" at the Sixth Annual Department of Defense Procurement Research Symposium on June 23 at the U. S. Military Academy, West Point.

Defense Contract Administration Services Region (DCASR) Boston ensures that material purchased under a defense contract goes to where it is needed on time, and meets high quality standards. DCASR Boston administers $13 billion of defense contracts which have been awarded to industries in New England and northern New York state.

McCormick is a Supervisory Industrial Specialist and works closely with the top management of contracting facilities. He has worked at DCASR Boston for 13 years. McCormick earned a Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration from Boston College and is a 1974 graduate of Cornell University Graduate School of Business and Public Administration - Education for Public Management Program.

Museum Funded For Education

The Peabody Museum of Salem's Education Department has recently received contributions totalling $58,192 from three foundations. Increasing interest in the Museum has resulted in much heavier demands on that department. In order to meet the current and future needs of schools, as well as adult and other groups, the Museum has been seeking "start up" funds from public and private sources to hire teachers and outreach administrator.

The largest grant $50,000 from the Committee of the Permanent Charity Fund Inc. of Boston will enable the Museum to hire two teachers over a three-year period. $6,192 from the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities and $2,000 from the Alice P. Chase Trust will be applied towards the position of Administrator to inform schools and colleges in the Greater Boston area of the Museum's resources as a teaching aid, develop teaching materials and train volunteers to present in-school programs preceding or following museum visits.

The Peabody Museum can be used as an interdisciplinary educational resource, in social studies, history, mathematics, science, natural history, and language arts. According to Sarah Fraser Robbins, Educational Director, "Our collections are outstanding and should be known and used by more teachers and students. With an outreach person and new teachers we will be able to offer and interpret them to thousands and thousands more people.

Within two or three years we hope the department will be completely self-supporting.

'Seven Year Itch' At Playhouse

"The Seven Year Itch," George Axelrod's comedy of the fifties opens Wednesday, July 20 and continues through Sunday, July 24 at Salem's Town & Country Playhouse. The popular play which ran over 1,000 performances on Broadway, will be presented nightly, through Saturday at 8:15 p.m., Sunday at 7 p.m. and a Thursday matinee at 2 p.m. Ticket information may be obtained by phoning the box-office.

"The Seven Year Itch" is best remembered as a motion picture starring Marilyn Monroe. The amusing plot concerns a husband whose wife has gone to the country and has left him wide open to summer temptations in the city. A young model upstairs comes down, the husband succumbs, and is thereupon beset by rosy daydreams in which the model throws herself at his feet, by counter nightmares in which his wife throws him out of the house, and by another set of fantasies in which his wife leaves him for another man who is paying her attentions in the country. It all ends happily as he rushes off for a connubial weekend.

The 64th production at Town & Country, "The Seven Year Itch" will be directed by David McNitt who recently staged a successful production of the play in New York City. Mr. McNitt, associated with T&C since its inception eight years ago, has directed many of the most popular shows, including "Hello Dolly," "Mister Roberts," "Jesus Christ Superstar," and last week's "Applause."

Featured as the husband will be New York actor Doug Baldwin. Mr. Baldwin comes to Town & Country for his first season bringing with him a host of repertory stock credits. He was recently seen with Robert Ryan and Henry Fonda in "The Front Page" in New York. He has also played roles in such productions as "Fiorello," "Damn Yankees," "Barefoot in the Park," and "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Mr. Baldwin will be joined by T&C's resident company of New York actors.

Future fare at Town & Country includes "Oklahoma!" — July 27-31; "The Sunshine Boys" — Aug. 3-7; "The Sound of Music" — Aug. 10-14; "Oh Coward!" — Aug. 17-21.

The air-conditioned theatre is located in the new Salem High School complex and is easily reached at Exit 1 off Interstate Route 93 opposite Rockingham Park. There is plenty of free parking.

Chamber Plans For Casbah

You can participate in the Andover Center Merchants Casbah on Friday, Aug. 5 from 9 a.m. through 9 p.m. on Main Street.

Louis C. Pfeifle has been appointed chairman of the event by the Center Merchants executive officer Jeffrey S. French.

Thousands of handcrafted items will be on display.

Demonstrations will take place while shoppers roam from booth to booth examining and purchasing the creations of the many talented craftsmen.

Many of the craftsmen already registered have participated in major expositions throughout the New England area and receive a tremendous demand for such items as crystal sculptures, coin jewelry, handcrafted leathers of all types, pottery, photography, silver and gold jewelry, etc.

Last year, approximately 50 booths were set up on Main Street which is closed to traffic during this event and this year, Pfeifle states that he already has more than that number registered.

Renamed Library Trustee

Governor Micheal S. Dukakis has reappointed Gwendolyn C. Smith of North Andover as a member of the State Library Board of Trustees. Smith is presently the board president.

Press Study Mission

In Cleveland, Northumbria. The 40 members were all present when the Planning Council's photographer aimed his lens through the scattered raindrops in front of Gurney House, council headquarters. It was the tour's first and only day of rain. The Central Office of Information said they had planned it that way.

The International Study Mission

Jubilee Year England

By Raymond B. DeRuisseau

IPSM comprises a group of weekly newspapers across the United States who tour a foreign country on a fact finding mission annually. The information offices of these countries cooperate in planning the excursions with a view to having their stories told to the grass roots circulation of the weeklies. Big metropolitan papers with their extensive staffs of reporters and foreign correspondents report all that goes on of international interest in these countries in our daily press. But the small paper view, the tourist view is the objective of IPSM.

The tour this year was England, Wales and Scotland and a TOWNSMAN representative went along. During the next several months we will periodically publish articles based on information garnered during the 18-day trip.

Weekly newspapers, some with circulations as low as 1500, from coast to coast were photographing and noting the problems and the countering solutions evident in the United Kingdom's way of life today. California, New Mexico, Iowa, Wisconsin, Missouri, Louisiana, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, New York, Rhode Island, Vermont, Maine and Massachusetts are names appearing in the mastheads of the papers represented.

The itinerary was carefully mapped out and arrangements made by the Central Office of Information for the Foreign and Commonwealth Office. Their representatives and our guides were superb, all of them ever anxious to show us whatever we wanted to see and answering or getting answers to all questions posed. The Welsh Office and the Scottish Information Office worked hand in glove with London to make the whole an exceptional view of Great Britain in this memorable Jubilee Year.

The time schedule was go-go by motor coach, air, rail and water transport. We were greeted and briefed by Lord Mayors, economists, planners, newspapermen and industrialists, all ready with reams of information to supplement their orientations. It was all most informative and allayed many misconceptions which are formed by someone who hasn't been there and has read about it 3000 miles away. It also graphically pointed up some of the problems of a socialist state.

Inevitably, through all that was revealed was interwoven the antiquity, the traditions which are England. Henrys and Charleses and Jameses and Georges; who fought what battle where and why plus the effects of this or that victory. We will address ourselves to the contemporary scene and the often amazing parallel between the way things are in this country and in the land of our national forebears.

This June we saw England, Wales and Scotland at their very best. The weatherman couldn't have more cooperative. Rainclouds were overhead only briefly during one day of the entire journey. It was warm, even hot (the 80s) most every day. It isn't always this way our guides and the people on the street assured us, but the flowers and flowers and flowers apparently thrive on the combination of weather, temperature, loam and air. Flowers are everywhere, big and healthy and the envy and joy of the women who made the trip.

In subsequent articles we will tell of seeing Her Royal Highness in Cardiff; how Wales isn't at all what we thought it was; our trip on the Festiniog Choo-Choo; the glories of Snowdonia National Park; the still evident remains of bombed out buildings in Manchester; the Scots and their beautiful capital city; Devolution, a big subject; some questions raised in Scotch Whiskey; Washington New Town; President Carter's capture of the citizens of Newcastle and how he one-upped

Elizabeth II in Sunderland; the prices, inflation, unemployment and the hopes that rest in North Sea oil and gas fields; Birmingham and the famed Midlands; lunch at one of the baronial-like halls, many of which now take in guests to help solve the burdensome tax problem; the International Agricultural show; a night with the Bard at Stratford, a tourist's eye view of London and finally an inside look into the Concorde.

Activities At The Playgrounds

Doherty

This week at Doherty Playground enthusiasm was high during the Bike Rodeo and Beauty Pageant. The winner of the pageant was Denika Feodoroff. Other prizes were given away for appearance. The winners were: Debbie Robertson for best figure; Kelly Hass for best dress; Denika Feodoroff for nicest hair; Christine Feodoroff for best walk; Kelly Darwin for most freckles; Sherry Dynn for longest hair; Kuke Lyons for prettiest eyes.

At the Bike Rodeo bikes were raced and decorated. Some of the winners of the decorating were Derek Brucato, Stanley, Fretas, Debbie Stoddard and Jackie Lynch. In the racing there were three divisions: road, skills, and obstacle course. Two of the winners in the road race were Joe Delleax and Mary Lou Stoddard; in skills race, Joe Dellea and Debbie Robertson; and in the Obstacle Course Joe Dellea and Mary Lou Stoddard.

For the smaller youngsters the road race was won by Jacki Lynch and Carrie Hard and the skills race won by Dianne Fowler and Steven Jarbeau. Later in the week there was feasting on hamburgers and hotdogs at the Friday Cookout.

Sanborn

Sanborn started the week off with hoola-hoop and frisbee contests. The staff was surprised at the talent a number of the participants had. Although everyone was good, there were a few outstanding contestants like Anja Grant, Robin Colombosian, Katie Sheehan, Patty Palma, Eric Anderson, Jon Anderson and Paul Lindsey in the hula-hoop contest, and Tommy Dolan, Jeff Bruck and Jeff Geoff excelled in frisbee tossing and catching.

There were a variety of crafts going on at Sanborn throughout the week. Playgrounders Made T-shirts, telephone wire jewelry and animals, and a large newspaper sculpture.

Friday was bicycle safety day. Officer Hastings came and talked about safety and bicycles. There also was a poster contest. The winners in the 6-8 category were: 1. Lisa Horgan; 2. Pam Egan; 3. Bobby Devaney and Leanne DeRosa.

Jerome W. Kelly

Elected Vice Pres.

Jerome W. Kelly, of Andover, has been elected a vice president of A M Life Insurance Co., Wakefield.

He will manage the company's individual and group underwriting as well as the underwriting of accident and health insurance.

Active in several professional underwriters' associations, he is a graduate of Loyola University. He lives with his wife, Clare, and four children at 2 Yardley Road.

In the 9-11 age group the best posters were drawn by: 1. Kelly Egan; 2. Justine Koromhas; 3. Kristen Shepard. The winners in the 12-14 group were: 1. Mark Jannini; and 2. Kim Byrne.

The week came to a fun end with a beach party. Water balloons and a sprinkler cooled everyone, with the counselors as prime targets. Lunch and a dessert swap closed the day.

Shawsheen

Monday started out with an enthusiastic turnout for firstbee trials. Jeff Demers took three different categories while Sean Ross took two; Patti Mercier won one; Joe Cormeier took one, and there will be a play-off between Joe and Jeff for the last category.

The group embarked on a rugged bike trip to Rose Glen Dairy, and then on to Ballardvale to see the Red Wagon. Friday there was a big cookout, watermelon speed spitting contest, and some field events, including an egg toss, but paid the ultimate price of a broken egg on their clothes. But the biggest hit was the water-balloon fight.

Ballardvale

This summer at Ballardvale playground has been having a great time. In crafts this week Susan and Christine Cowley, Julie Madden, Tina Sutton and Melina Mills make potholders and masks. In woodworking Steven Mills, Buss and Cindy Mosher, Bartley Parker and John Madden make wooden boats and napkin holders.

At Friday's weekly cookout Lisa and Reggie Hayes handed out the hot dogs and rolls.

The Ballardvale kids thank all the other playgrounds for coming to see the Red Wagon at the Community Center. They had a great time, and are now planning a canoeing trip with the firemen. All junior high kids are welcome.

The hot weather hasn't been discouraging; kids are still ready to play kickball and other activities.

South

Monday a frisbee and hula-hoop contest was held. Some of the stunts which were performed by the frisbee throwers were throwing the frisbee through a hoop, right and left curves, catch behind the back, between the legs, and distance throws. The first five places went to: First - Jeff Crowninshield, Second - Garyu Ewell, Third - Mike Steward, Fourth - Beth Ann Lancaster, and Fifth - Jay Eldred. Some of the stunts done in the hula-hoop contest were the stork, alley oop, the walk, etc. The five placers were, first - Laurie Doucette, second - Laura Lancaster, there was a tie for third between Darlene Cuddy and Christina Dela Croce, fourth - Maryanne Salibury, and in fifth place was Janine Brideau.

Tuesday South won in both softball and hockey against Sanborn with a softball score of 8-3 and hockey 9-6. Homeruns were hit by Jay Eldred and David Grant. Gary Ewell struck out 6 from the mound.

The hockey game was fast and exciting with goals by Gary Ewell, David Grant, David Jones and Pippi Saalfrank. Fine defensive plays by Scott Grant, Katie Bronquell and Steve Eldred, with Jay Eldred at Net held the hot shooting Sanborn team to 6 goals.

Against West on Thursday South lost in softball 7-1, but came back to win in hockey 8-4. The only run scored in softball came when Beth Lancaster singled along David Grant to score. West is to be commended for their fine infield by completing two double plays. In hockey goals were scored by Gary Ewell, David Grant, David Jones and Scott Grant. It was a well played game on both sides. This victory maintains South's undefeated status in hockey.

West

Things were really hopping at West Elementary Playground this week, beginning the week by making placemats and invitations for the first annual Parent's Tea. Wednesday was Greaser's Day, and everyone had a great time dressing up in 50's costumes. Audra Jean Kaminski was the best dancer in the dance contest. Mike Blaustein made a heroic effort during the goldfish eating contest (not real goldfish - of course!).

Thursday, Parent's Tea was a great success. All the parents had a good time and brought lots

Three hundred pounds of wet kelp, a seaweed, can produce three pounds of methane gas. Methanogenic bacteria are put into vats with kelp. As bacteria break the kelp down they produce methane as a waste product, Massachusetts Audubon points out. This process occurs naturally in swamps where decaying matter is converted into swamp gas which is methane.

Knights Keep Torrid Pace

The Andover Knights of Columbus baseball club continued its torrid pace as they picked up eight of a possible twelve points.

Coming off two straight wins, the Knights won their first outing of the week by defeating Boyles Drug of Amesbury by a 3-2 margin.

The Knight's attack got going in the bottom of the first as Juan Castillo walked, went to second on Barry Karamatopolous' single to left. Juan was then thrown out stealing third base before Steve Juba laced a double to right center putting men on second and third. Steve Bedrosian, Knight hurler, sent the first run across with a blooper to right. After Peter Karamatopolous made out number two, Mark Morreo plated run two with a single to left.

The Knights added run number three in the fifth as Paul McIntyre drew a base on balls with one out. Juan Castillo followed with a single up the middle. Biff Moriarty then went in to run for McIntyre and came home as Barry Karamatopolous and Steve Juba walked to force in a run with only one out, but the next two men went down to end the threat.

Bedrosian seeking win number five gave up only three hits over six innings and two of those were sliced to the wrong field. Inning number seven saw Steve retire the first runner easily before Jr. Garrett walked, Tim Powers blooped a double down the left field line and Dave Harvey had a two run check single to right. After notching out number two Steve Miller singled to left before Sonny Fischera popped to Morreo to end the game.

Bedrosian gave up only six hits, struck out six and walked two as the Knights continued their climb.

The very next night saw veteran Lazzlo Kun shake off some early inning problems to enter inning six with a three to two lead only to end with a tie due to a three base error.

The fine work started immediately as the first two hitters both singled to center before a double play and a pop to the pitcher ended the threat.

In the bottom of the first, after one was out, Sam D'Agata caught hold of a Wayne Boisselle fast ball and crashed one over the head of centerfielder Steve Simpson for a home run. Steve Juba followed with a single, a stolen base, and Lazzlo Kun's single to left for run number two.

Inning number three saw Timberlane tie it at two all.

Again two hits with none out followed by a Mickey Funi rescued one run and a Chris Barry sacrifice fly to left brought home the second run.

In the bottom half, the Knights regained the lead as Sam D'Agata, three for four for the night singled to right. He was sacrificed along by Steve Juba, went to third on passed ball and scored as the throw from the catcher got away.

The Knights nursed the lead as Kun settled down and his breaking ball began to move. With two out in the sixth a single to right got away from the rightfielder and rolled to the fence for an unearned run.

Luck was with the Knights as Chris opened the seventh with a long triple to center. Then Barry Karamatopolous, last year's All Star second baseman made two consecutive backhanded stops of shots down the line and threw the hitters out while forcing the runner to hold.

Sunday the Knights played a double header in 98 degree temperature at Boyle's.

Game one saw the Knight's bats silenced by veteran Bob Fischera of Lawrence as he pitched a one hitter while striking out twelve and walking two. On the other side of the field was Bob Bedrosian who allowed four hits and four walks for only one run and a loss.

The only run of the game came in the fourth inning as Devito walked, Jr Garrett topped a roller to third which moved Devito to second. Harvet then popped to Morreo when Dave Walker hit a roller up the middle which Peter Karamatopolous knocked down with a diving stop trying to prevent the run, but the ball rolled about fifteen feet away allowing the runner to score.

An over never really threatened as Fischera had the big strikeout working.

Game number two saw another great pitching performance by both clubs as Steve Bedrosian and Gene Jones hooked up in a pitchers duel destined to end in a 0-0 tie.

Boyle's threatened twice, once in the second and again in the third. In the second Daneau reached on an error and went to second when it was thrown away. Then, a repetition of the hustle play which took place in game one and backfired paid off. Jr Garrett hit a hand grounder up the middle which Peter Karamatopolous dove and knocked down. He retrieved the ball and fired to Steve Juba to nail the streaking Daneau.

The Knights meanwhile had threats going in the third, fourth, and fifth as they left two on in each instance and finally in the sixth they had a man on third with one out only to see Peter Karamatopolous line out to center to end the threat.

Steve Bedrosian finished with four strikeouts, two walks and three hits in 98 degree temperatures with only two days rest.

Yankees Take Town LL Title

Town Champs

By Rick Harrison

The Yankees won the 1977 Andover Little League Town Championship, nudging the Cardinals two games to one in their well-played best-of-3 series last week.

In the meantime, the annual District 14 All Star Tournament also opened single elimination play with 18 teams from the Greater-Lawrence ND Greater-Lowell areas competing.

Andover National got off to a roaring tourney start, clobbering South Lawrence West 12-1, while Andover American followed suit last Monday night with a solid 7-2 victory over Lawrence Central.

Those victories set up a meeting last night, after TOWNSMAN presstime, between Andover National and Andover American at West School.

The Town Championship showdown brought together two red-hot divisional champs who did nothing to tarnish their images.

Manager Howie Larrabee's Cards entered with a flashy 19-1 overall record and 16-game winning streak, while Manager Walt McHendry's Yankees were 14-6 during the regular season and were riding an 11-game victory skein entering the series for supremacy.

The opening contest lasted two days and eight innings before the Yanks poured across 11 runs to win 14-3 and snap the Cards 16-game streak.

The Cards rebounded to win the second tilt, 7-4, thereby ending the Yank's string at 12 straight.

The title game was a taut seesaw struggle that finally went to the Yankees, 5-4.

The Yanks thus finished at 16-7 overall while the Cards were 20-3.

Town Championship Yankees, 14-3

The final score hardly indicates what a tough struggle the best-of-three series opener was, as the Yankees erupted for 11 runs in the top of the eighth inning to snap a 3-3 tie in the marathon game.

The contest started a week ago Wednesday night, and for six innings ace pitchers Dennis Glynn of the Yanks and Chris O'Reilly of the Cardinals were locked in a 3-3 standoff.

According to Little League rules, both teams had to switch hurlers in the seventh.

Lefthander Billy Vickers was inserted for the Yanks, while the Cards responded with undefeated righthander Mark Walsh (7-0).

The Yanks went down without incident in the seventh, but in the home half the Cards placed a runner at first base.

At this point the heavens opened and both heavy rain and darkness caused a suspension of the game until the following night.

The contest was picked up the next evening, and Mark Grams promptly bunted the Card's runner along to second base. However, Vickers worked his way out of the jam with a strikeout and flyball.

Then, in the eighth, the Yanks put things out of reach with their 1-run explosion.

Big blows in the stanza were long-run-scoring doubles by Chris Valcourt and Dave Doucette. There were also numerous walks to help keep the rally going.

Steve Johnson led the Yanks' attack with a double and two singles, while winning pitcher Vickers chipped in a pair of singles.

Chris O'Reilly powered the an wering fire for the Cards with a triple and a solid double that bounced off the West Elementary field fence.

Ken Doherty also contributed a two-bagger for the Cards.

O'Reilly struck out seven straight Yankee batters at one juncture, employing an excellent curveball, but in the end it wasn't quite enough.

Defensive standouts in the opener were rival shortstops Bill Noyes of the Yanks and Mark Walsh.

Cards, 7-4

The National League champion Cards, exhibiting a large amount of pride, came back after the opening loss to square the series with a 7-4 triumph immediately after the continuation of game one.

Paul Tarro (5-0) hurled the first five innings to register the mound victory.

Ken Doherty, making his first pitching appearance of the season, mopped up with a solid inning of relief.

Zack Apgar and Chris O'Reilly did the most damage for the Cards, sparking the 10-hit attack with three singles apiece.

Steve Johnson continued his heavy slugging for the Yanks, cracking a two-run homer, while Bill Noyes chipped in two singles.

The homerun, which was the only rountripper of the series, was Johnson's second of the season.

Billy Vickers was tagged with the pitching loss.

The Cards broke this game open with a three-run fourth inning.

Yankees, 5-4

hands several times and the Cards had the tying run perched on base when the contest ended.

The Yanks grabbed a 2-0 advantage, fell behind 3-2 midway through the game, tied it 3-3, went ahead 5-3 and then hung on to win.

Eric Fitzpatrick, 11-year-old righthander, and Chris Valcourt teamed up to toss a four-hitter for the Yanks. Fitzpatrick worked the first two innings and Valcourt the last four.

Mike Redgata led the Yanks' offense with a pair of key singles, the second of which drove home the eventual winning run.

Jim Terrion added a pair of singles for the Town Champs, while Steve Johnson cracked a long single off the base of the rightfield fence.

"We were kidding Steve after the game," noted Yank Manager Walt McHendry. "It looked as though he broke into his homerun trot, which is why he was held to a single."

The Yankees had several defensive stars, including catchers John Healy and Rob Slayton, shortstop Bill Noyes and third baseman Mike Redgate.

Slayton played despite the fact he had been ill most of the previous day and that same morning.

Ken Doherty led the Cards with a pair of singles, while catcher Mark Grams played a heads-up game for the NL titlists. Mark Walsh was the hard-luck losing chucker.

Chris O'Reilly barely missed a three-run homer when the score was 2-0, drilling the ball over the fence but barely foul in the second inning for the Cards.

All players on both teams were presented with trophies after the final game.

All-Star Tournament Andover National, 12-1

Manager Howie Larrabee's Andover National Little League All Stars began their quest for the District 14 Tournament championship in very impressive style, clouting South Lawrence West 12-1 at Mount Vernon Park.

Andover National banged out 14 hits and put the game away with a seven-run outburst in the top of the second inning to erase a 1-0 deficit.

Bill Feeney was the big star of the show, both on the mound and at the plate, as the Pirates' righthander dazzled SLW with versatility.

Feeney, throwing about 40% curveballs, tossed a four-hitter, whiffed 10 and issued just one walk.

At the plate Bill went 3-for-5, including an opposite-field grand slam homer that cleared the rightfield fence by plenty. Feeney finished the game with five RBI altogether.

All told the Andover National Stars belted three homeruns, as Chris O'Reilly (Cards) added a two-run shot and Kris Williams (Braves) belted a solo blast.

O'Reilly finished the game with three RBI, adding one on a long sacrifice fly.

Rick Apgar (Giants) contributed a double and single, Greg Sacco (Giants) lashed two singles, and other safeties were spiked by J.J. Downey (Giants), Ed O'Connor (Mets), George Lemaitre (Pirates), Frank DePiano (Mets) and Zack Apgar (Cards).

Chris O'Reilly was a defensive standout at shortstop for Andover National.

After scoring seven runs in the second stanza, Andover added one in the fourth, three in the fifth and one more in the sixth inning.

Andover American, 7-2

Hard-throwing righthander Jim MacMillan fired a four-hitter, striking out 11 and walking only two, as Andover American ousted Lawrence Cen-

Sport Shop Booters Take Three

Things are really rolling now for the Sport Shop Soccer team, as they have won their last three games with a total of 18 goals scored and none registered by the opposition.

They have demonstrated superb teamwork with nearly every goal involving the efforts of several players, including defensemen who have fed passes and cleared balls to the forwards so that they could work plays up front. In the two games this past week, Andover beat the Wakefield 2 team 6-0 and travelled to Beverly to win 5-0.

One problem that still remains with the team is their inability to score early and to score often during the first period. Tuesday was no exception vs Wakefield as the score at half-time was a disappointing 1-0. The score came on a beautiful play deep into the period when wing Kevin Dewhirst took the ball downfield on a give and go with inside Dave Taggart. When they reached the penalty area, and the defense tightened up, Taggart faked a pass back to Dewhirst, spun and shot, catching the goalie off guard. The Sport Shop had dominated from the very beginning and had three shots deflect off the goal post, all the result of fine efforts by players like fullback Mark Shionis and inside Dave Clarke.

The second half has historically been Andovers, and history repeated itself against Wakefield. Before long, the score was 2-0 as winger Dan Bernardin sent one of his classic bullets into the upper corner of the goal. Bernardin contributed an assist on the next goal as halfback Dan Early changed the direction of a pass and placed it nicely in the lower right net. Kevin Dewhirst contributed his goal with 20 minutes left to play on a left footed shot from fifteen yards out which found it's way through a maze of defenders legs and into the nets. Halfback Scott Vivian got his name in the books by rocketing a shot from thirty yards which hooked slightly and left the Wakefield goalie helpless. The final tally came once again from Dave Taggart who put on a real display of dribbling before teeing up a shot that the goalie never even saw.

The game was one of the prettiest games this season, and was another indication of Andover's increasing potential in the league.

Thursday, the Sport Shop team travelled to Beverly and, once again, had a disappointing and frustrating first half. The backs worked hard to get the ball to the strikers, but Beverly was aggressive and prevented any plays from maturing. Nick Houhoulis played sensationally well in goal all game, but especially in the first half where he turned back shot after shot and made some impressive diving saves to maintain his shutout. The first half was relatively even, as the 0-0 score indicated.

Andover's first goal was somewhat of a fluke, as one of Beverly's fullbacks misplayed the ball in an attempt to play it back to his goaltender. The ball went astray and wound up in the Beverly goal, giving Andover a weak 1-0 lead. Andover wanted to prove that they could score better goals than that, and did so shortly thereafter as halfback Steve Early chipped the ball to Dan Bernardin who sent one stinging into the nets from thirty yards away. Danny Lynch came through several minutes later in a scramble in front of the Beverly nets. This gave the Sport Shop a three goal lead and turned the tide Andovers way for good. Danny Bernardin tallied again with fifteen minutes to go as he let fly with the outside of his left foot on assist from Steve Early. Fullback Harry Collins took part in the final goal of the game as he dribbled all the way up the field and sent a cross to forward Jim Wood who made a diving kick past the outstretched hands of the Beverly goalie. The game ended shortly thereafter, completing a beautiful week of soccer for the ever improving Sport Shop Soccer Team.

The team will be home at 6:15 on Thursday at the Sacred Heart Field.

Jon Pelletier
... slugs RBI double in win

Pete Feeney
... combines on no-hitter

Ruthers In Title Battle

By Rick Harrison

The Andover Babe Ruth baseball team moved back in the thick of the battle for second place in the Greater-Lawrence League, capturing three of four recent starts to close within a half-game of Tower Hill.

The locals received a combined no-hitter from righthander Pete Feeney and lefty Bob Heidt enroute to a 3-0 conquest of South Lawrence East.

One bad inning proved costly as first place North Andover blanked the locals, 4-0, snapping a scoreless deadlock with all four markers in the fifth.

Andover then completed a season's series sweep of North Lawrence, registering back-to-back 8-4 and 9-4 victories as Heidt and Brian Kelly both hurled their first complete games.

The results left Andover at 8-5 in the league and 11-6 including all games.

Andover, 3-0

Pete Feeney, who collected the win to square his record at 2-2, and Bob Heidt pooled talents to give Andover its eighth no-hitter in the past seven seasons.

Feeney worked the first 5-1/3 innings and Heidt the final 1-2/3, and while they struck out six the pair kept things interesting by walking 14.

Andover notched a pair of runs in the first inning when Wayne Merola walked, Larry Larrabee singled, Brian Kelly stroked an RBI single and Bob Patterson lashed a run-scoring hit.

The final run occurred in the bottom of the sixth. Patterson was hit by a pitch, stole second and raced home on Heidt's triple off the base of the fence in right-field.

Larrabee led the Andover attack with a perfect 3-for-3 game and three stolen bases, while solo safeties were contributed by Pete Feeney, Patterson, Kelly and Heidt.

SLE left the bases loaded following three walks in the thirs, sixth and seventh, while the losers stranded two men in the first and fourth frames.

It was the most bizarre no-hitter for Andover in years.

North Andover, 4-0

North Andover continued to coast atop the standings at 13-1, beating Andover for the third time in a low-scoring game. NA prevailed 5-2 and 5-1 in earlier meetings.

Bob Patterson pitched a fine game for Andover, surrendering only six hits and two earned runs, but North Andover's Rick Roche was a shade better with a crist two-hitter, seven strikeouts and

All the offensive damage was done in the fifth, when NA bunched four of its safeties and received a key two-run double to left-field from Dave Walsh.

There was also a costly throwing error that led to a pair of unearned runs for the visitors.

Other than that Patterson was in complete control, retiring six straight batters during one stretch and four in succession another time.

Andover could do nothing with Roche, managing only a solid single to rightfield by Bob Heidt in the sescond and a bunt single down the third base line by Brian Kelly in the fourth.

The fourth was the only time the locals threatened, as Kelly's single and two NA errors put men at first and third with two down. Roche, however, induced Heidt to foul out to catcher Rick Camire ending the stanza.

The game finished amidst a high wind, rain, thjunder and lightning.

Second baseman Pete Feeney and catcher Brian Kelly starred defensively for Andover.

Andover, 8-4

Andover bounced back behind the six-hit pitching of southpaw Bob Heidt to stop North Lawrence 8-4 at O'Connell Playstead, as the victors erupted for seven runs in the fourth to ice the decision.

Heidt, going the distance for the first time and tossing 98 pitches along the way, whiffed four batters and walked only three.

NL took a 1-0 advantage in the second inning when Ron Masucci singled, stole second, took third on Bob Valentino's bunt, and came across as Pete Mical bounced a two-out, two-strike single to leftfield.

Andover, after threatening in the second and third stanzas without benefit of a hit, chased NL starting pitcher John Amato with a seven-run uprising in the fourth.

The locals paraded 10 batters to the plate and had solid singles by Bob Patterson, Heidt, Steve Rathbun and Bill Stahley.

Patterson, who opened the Stanza with a single, later closed it by belting a long two-run triple to right-centerfield. He was subsequently thrown out at the plate

NL got one back in the bottom of the fifth as Dennis Valley clouted a long triple to left-centerfield, and continued home on an errant relay throw.

The last two runs occurred in the sixth when Andover committed a double throwing error with runners at second and third base.

Patterson finished the game 2-for-3, Bill Stahley was 2-for-4, and powell drilled a double in the seventh stanza.

Pete Feeney was the defensive standout at shortstop for Andover, handling six chanced without an error and ititiating two doubleplays...Andover's eighth and ninth twin killings of the season.

Andover, 9-4

The locals played seesaw with North Lawrence for 4-1/2 innings last Sunday at the Playstead,

Women's Softball Tourney

Tournament Co-ordinator, Frank Benjamin has announced that The Merrimack Valley Chapter, National Foundation-March of Dimes will hold its First Annual Women's Slow Pitch Softball Tournament the weekend of Sept. 2, 3, 4, and 5. The tournament will be held at the Hayden Schofield Playstead, Lawrence Street, Lawrence, with an entry fee of $50 per team, to benefit the March of Dimes' fight against birth defects. Jerseys are required.

The first place team will be awarded a team trophy and individual trophies, with a trophy given to the runner up team. No team can consist of more than 18 players.

Any team interested in participating can call Roz Kates at the March of Dimes office, 89 North Main St., Andover.

Volleyball Concludes

The Andover-North Andover YMCA Men's Volleyball program concluded with a banquet at the end of June. During the season League play was scheduled at the new Andover-North Andover YMCA, Haverhill St. facility. An informal volleyball group continues to play during the summer period.

The Bears were the champions for the season and individual trophies were awarded to the players on that team as follows: Harry Schmitke, Mark Kovacs, Dick Whitmore, Bob Shack, Gary Wiemann, Pat Hurt, Bob March and Carl Byers. The runner-up team of the Leopards included Jim Sellers, Sid Mukul, Ed Weil, G. Maccrone, Mel Miller, Bob West, Dave Davies and Ed Ratyna.

Special awards presented to individuals at the banquet were as follows: Outstanding Player Award — Gary Grant; Spiker Award — Charles Pulsford; Scoop Award — Carl Byers; Setter Award — Dick Graber; Digger Award — Ed Weil; Blocker Award — Marty Arrick; Bumper Award — Gary Wiemann; Server Award — Satish Mukul.

A three-man volleyball tourney was conducted with first place honors going to Sid Mukul, Harry Schmitke and Peter Cervone. Second place awards were presented to Jim Sellers, William Shack and Dick O'Brien and the third place team consisted of Les McDowell, Ed Weil and John Hsu.

Babe Ruth

trading leads several times, but a four-run outburst in the last of the fifth wrapped up the verdict.

Righthander Brian Kelly, making only his second appearance on the mound and his first start ever, twirled a five-hitter and permitted only two earned runs. He threw 99 pitches in seven innings.

NL inched ahead 1-0 in the second when Ron Masucci walked, took second on Bob Valentino's single, third on Domingo Infante's bunt, and scored when Pete Mical laid down a fine squeeze bunt.

Andover rebounded for a 2-1 edge in the bottom of the inning. Bill Stahley was hit by a pitch, Bob Patterson was safe on a sacrifice fielder's choice, both moved up on a wild pitch, Stahley scored on Pete Feeney's infield out, and Patterson crossed on another wild pitch.

North Lawrence bounced back to make it 3-2 in the third as John Amato and Dennis Valley set the table with consecutive one-out walks. Jose Costa bunted the runners along, and Ron Masucci followed with a two-run single to leftfield.

Andover battled back to a 4-3 cushion in the fourth, doing all the damage after two were out. Patterson walked, Bob Heidt singled to right and Pete Feeney drilled a two-run double to leftfield.

Steve Rathbun followed with a line single to left, Feeney stopping at third, and Jon Pelletier walked to load the bases. Wayne Merola skied to centerfield to end the threat.

NL hung tough to tie it 4-4 in the fifth. Valley led with a walk, took second on Costa's sacrifice and went to third when Valentino singled. North Lawrence then tried a delayed double steal, and the ball was thrown away trying to nail Valley racing home.

The locals finally pulled away with four runs in the fifth, and it all started after Lary Larrabee lined out sharply to second base.

Brian Kelly reached on an infield error, Bill Stahley singled to center, and Bob Patterson lashed an RBI single to centerfield. Bob Heidt walked to load the bases, and Stahley was erased at the plate on Pete Feeney's hard grounder to Ron Masucci at third base.

Consecutive bases-loaded walks to Steve Rathbun and Jon Pelletier made it 7-4, and Wayne Merola singled home Feeney. Rathbun was cut down at home on a close play to end the inning.

Andover tacked on its final marker in the sixth when Larrabee singled, stole second, took third on Stahley's single and scored easily on Patterson's long, high sacrifice fly to deep leftfield.

Stahley and Merola led the attack with two hits apiece, while Patterson was 1-for-1 officially and scored three runs.

Kelly was busy on the pitchers mound with six assists and two putouts, while Bill Stahley gunned down a runner trying to steal in the first. It was Stahley's first Babe Ruth game at catcher.

Andover is now 5-3 at home and 3-2 on the road in G-L play.

All-Stars

The Greater-Lawrence League 13-year-old All-Stars won their opening game last Monday night, nudging Lowell 4-3 with a two-run rally in the bottom of the seventh to launch District 1 Tournament play.

Jon Pelletier of Andover contributed a hit and made a fine catch and a key throw in centerfield.

Ted Kelley led the seventh with a walk and scored the eventual tying run, while Jason Powell and Tim Grams also played strong games for the G-L Stars.

Good Form Denise Ahern of Wild Rose Drive, displays good form for Indian Ridge Swim team during meet with Bradford last Saturday.

Indian Ridge Drops Meet

The New Indian Ridge Country Club's Swim Team played host Saturday, July 16 to a strong Bradford Swim Club.

Although Bradford ran off with most of the honors, New Indian Ridge Pool Director Marianne Sullivan was thrilled with her teams' fine showing in "breaking 100 points against a powerful Bradford," an accomplishment that Sullivan felt "was phenomenal!"

The enthusiastic audience was treated to a variety of swimming races including freestyle, breast stroke, back stroke butterfly plus superb diving and relay races.

Contestants ranged from 7 to 17 in age.

Competition is in the Summer Aquatic League and includes, in addition to New Indian Ridge and Bradford, Haverhill C.C., Rye Beach Club, Ferncroft C.C., Vesper C.C., Brooks Day Camp and North Andover C.C.

Swimming Awards Presented

During the recently concluded Spring Term the Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A. presented 185 award certificates for individuals meeting requirements in the Y.M.C.A. and Red Cross swimming programs. Aquatics enrollment for the Spring Term was 1,382.

Those receiving awards during the Spring Term follow:nce of 19,813.

The summer aquatics program includes recreational swims and instruction classes at the Y.M.C.A. facility on Haverhill St. and swimming instruction at 28 private backyard pools in Andover and North Andover. Some openings still exist in the instruction classes where individuals of all levels of ability are served. Details are available at the Y.M.C.A. office concerning summer programs.

Mrs. Richard A. Lux

Lux - Morgan

Miss Stephanie Grace Morgan, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert R. Morgan, 94 Branford Road, Rochester, N. Y. was joined in marriage to Mr. Richard Alan Lux of Andover, on Saturday, July 16, 1977.

The couple was married by the Rev. Richard H. Stearns at the Twelve Corners Presbyterian Church in a ceremony which they wrote.

Mrs. Stephanie Patton served as matron of honor for her niece. Miss Morgan's sisters Margaret and Susan were bridesmaids.

The bride wore a gown of white silk alpaca and a veil made of Alencon lace which was worn by her great-grandmother.

David Lux, the groom's brother, served as best man. Ushers were Frank Sciremammano of Pomona, N. J. and Blair Maddy of Syracuse, New York.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Lux is a 1969 graduate of Brighton High school and received her bachelor of arts degree in French and Linguistics at the University of Rochester, class of 1973. She was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. She has been a teacher of French at Holland Patent High School, Utica, N. Y., since 1973.

Mr. Lux, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Richard Lux of Andover, is a Ph.D. candidate in Mechanical and Aerospace Sciences at the University of Rochester. Mr. Lux is a 1969 graduate of Phillips Academy and received a bachelor of science degree from the University of Rochester in 1974 where he was a member of Theta Delth Chi fraternity.

The couple will make their home in Rochester.

Desjardins - Bernard

At home in Andover are Mr. and Mrs. Roger A. Desjardins who were married June 25 in St. Augustine's Church, Andover.

The bride is the former Elizabeth Ann Bernard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Leo Bernard, 459R So. Main Street, Andover. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Desjardins of Methuen.

The Rev. Edward G. Robinson officiated at the 11 o'clock ceremony and a reception followed at the Windsor in Dracut.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a gown of taffeta and satin chiffon made by her cousin, Margaret Contarino. It featured reembroidered Venice lace enhanced with pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses stephanotis and ivy.

Marcia McQuade attended as her maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Kathleen Webster, Donna Marcaurelle, Debbie Merrill and Ursula Anderl.

Richard Desjardins served as his brother's best man and ushers included his brother Robert Desjardins, Thomas Guy, the bride's cousin, Michael Bernard, and Stephen Defeo.

The new Mrs. Desjardins graduated from Andover High School and attended the St. Louis University in Madrid, Spain. She now attends the University of Massachusetts. Her husband, a graduate of the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High School is a carpenter.

They took a wedding trip to Montreal before making their home on Abbot Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Borrello

Borrello - Hatfield

Miss Candace Barbara Hatfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harley F. Hatfield, 11 Charlotte Drive, Andover, and Frederick John Borrello, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Borrello, 19 Lewis St., Everett, were united in marriage during a June 25 ceremony at the Unitarian Universalist Church in Andover.

Given in marriage by her mother and father, the bride wore a Grecian style gown of quiana. She carried a fireside basket of roses, daisies, baby's breath and ivy, and wore a headpiece of the same flowers.

Miss Kim Susan Hatfield was her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Sally Mucica, Mrs. Carol Loughlin, Mrs. Bette Ann Coyle, and Miss Mary Borrello, sister of the bridegroom.

Thomas Borrello served as his brother's best man and ushers were Robert Berlandi, Carmen Natale, John Coyle, and Joseph Soli.

The reception following the ceremony was held at Briarcliff, Knights of Columbus Hall, in Andover.

The bride who graduated from Salem State College, is a teacher in the Andover School system.

The bridegroom, who also graduated from Salem State College and received his teaching certificate from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, is a teacher in the Athol-Royalston Regional School District.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger A. Desjardins

Mrs. Andrew D. Caverly

Caverly - Kochiss

The wedding of Kim Carole Kochiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Kochiss, 715 Mill Hill Road, Southport and Falmouth, to Andrew Dyer Caverly, son of Dr. and Mrs. William H. Caverly of Andover, was solemnized on June 11 in St. Thomas Church, Fairfield, Conn.

Rev. Raymong Petrucci officiated at the 2:20 p.m. ceremony.

Kyle Kochiss was maid of honor for her sister and the bridesmaids were Pamela Caverly, Susan Caverly and Sally Caverly, sisters of the bridegroom, Joy Neri and Gayle Pachaco.

Timothy Caverly was best man for his brother, and ushers were Charles Johnson, Jay Kochiss, the bride's brother, Kenneth Leidheiser and Edward Kavjian.

A reception was held at the Mill River Country Club following the ceremony.

The bride, a French teacher in Newton, was graduated from Bucknell University. Her husband is an alumnus of Phillips Andover, Bucknell University, and received his M.B.A. from Pennsylvania State University. He plans to attend law school in the Fall.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Benjamin Ethridge

Ethridge - Fairburn

Cynthia L. Fairburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Fairburn, 20 County Road, Andover, became the bride of C. Benjamin Ethridge July 7, in a garden ceremony at the home of her parents.

The groom is the son of Chaplain and Mrs. Gene Ethridge of Valdosta, Ga.

Dr. Merele Jordan of Cohasset officiated at the 7 p.m. ceremony, and a reception followed at the Knights of Columbus Hall in North Reading.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire style gown with an insert of Alecncon lace, and carried a cascade of roses, baby's breath and stephanotis.

Carol Christopher attended as her maid of honor, and her sister, Mrs. Jane Boyde, presided at the guest book.

John R. Fairburn, the bride's brother, served as best man.

The new Mrs. Ethridge, a graduate of Andover High School, is employed by J.M. McDonalds of Norfolk, Neb. Her husband, a graduate of Avondale High School in Georgia, is a flight instructor at Skyways Inc., in Norfolk, where the couple is making their home following a wedding trip to Canada.

Jane K. Caswell

Early Fall Wedding Planned

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Caswell of Andover announce the engagement of their daughter, Jane Katherine, to Harry J. Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford M. Roberts, Jr. of Wayzata, Minnesota.

Miss Caswell is a graduate of the Pingree School, South Hamilton, Massachusetts and Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Minnetonka High School, Minnetonka, Minnesota and Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont.

An early fall wedding is planned.

Miss Connolly Is Engaged

Mrs. Thomas J. Connolly of Andover has announced the engagement of her daughter, Sally, to Joseph Michael Conlon, also of Andover. The prospective bride is also the daughter of the late Thomas J. Connolly. Her fiancé's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conlon, Jr.

Miss Connolly graduated from Andover High School and Merrimack College, and is employed by the Arlington Trust Co. Her fiancé is also a graduate of Andover High as well as the University of New Hampshire.

They plan a September wedding.

An Unfortunate Trend

The decision of the town manager and selectmen this week to appeal a decision of the National Labor Relations Board, which favored the town firefighters, was probably a difficult one, and becomes a part of a growing trend.

The decision is difficult because it focuses on municipality-employee relations with resultant strain having far reaching implications for both sides.

Unfortunate because it is another in a series of costly court determinations necessitated by collective bargaining procedures to determine what rights municipal management has in exercising economics or departmental direction.

The Andover case will focus on whether or not the manager had the right to place civilians on desk duty at the fire station, thus removing a firefighter from the job, in some cases at the expense of overtime.

In Boston there is controversy as to whether the city can put police in one-man cruisers.

In North Andover public safety employees are challenging the right of town meeting to reduce the percentage salary hike agreed upon between the bargaining parties.

Other communities also face challenges among which is the question of minimum staffing of public safety agencies.

All of this poses the important question of what rights a town or city, as management, has in its dealings with its employees, and maybe the court route is the proper way to proceed.

But, the important consideration is that it is a costly process and one which is sure to engender deep feelings within the community, Andover being no exception.

Andover firefighters have been without a contract for over a year and one-half. There is deep feeling about this matter alone, as the negotiation process has been arduous.

Adding the court determination process on top of the negotiation procedures makes the collective bargaining session even more difficult. Firefighters are currently in the process of seeking final and binding arbitration on the settling of their new contract.

As for the appeal of the NLRB ruling, we can probably safely say that this, too, will be a long process. Once a Superior Court finding is handed down on the matter, chances are, it could be appealed further to the Supreme Court by the losing side.

There apparently was some effort made to negotiate a settlement on the desk duty matter, to no avail.

The result is that a group of good public servants are now in the position of being looked upon as having less than dedication to their task, and we can appreciate that dedication doesn't necessarily put bread on the table, but it does keep it there.

It is an unfortunate, costly situation, which now heads unavoidably to the courts for determination, along with a myriad of similar cases from other communities.

The effect casts a shadowy veil over public service and public servants.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — July, 1902

The board of assessors met Monday morning and established the new tax rate at $16, the same amount as a year ago. The town's valuation this year is $5,499,076. Real estate value by district is $2,342,799, centre district; $933,141, south district and $1,034,020, west district.

The good news has been received by Selectman Boutwell from Supt. C.J.R. Humphreys of the Lawrence Gas Co., that the pipes will be extended to West Parish beginning next spring.

Anyone interested in the game of ping pong is asked to contact Thomas Lawrence who is attempting to organize a club in Ballardvale village.

By a narrow margin, the town almost lost its road roller Tuesday, just missing sinking into Main street into Roger's Brook. As the roller approached the west side of the street which is being macadamized and undergraded, it struck a new culvert and dirt which had been softened by the rains. By means of jacks, the ponderous machine was finally lifted and moved away from the dangerous position.

Tomorrow is the day chosen for the annual outing of the employees of Smith and Dove. The trip to Lynn beach will be made by means of electric.

50 Years Ago — July, 1927

The warm weather of the last week has kept lifeguards McBride and Robertson at the Pumps Pond beach. There are as many as 500 people in the water in the afternoon and upwards of 600 in the evening.

A Greenwood road man will have to learn about licensing procedures of dogs, since the police had him in court this week for keeping 14 dogs on his property none of which had been licensed.

Dr. Carl F. Pfatteicher and Winfield L. Sides of Phillips Academy left on the S.S. Munchen yesterday on a trip to Europe. They expect to go on a walking tour of the Black Forest.

Ralph Baker, driver of Ladder 1, has returned to his duties following his annual two weeks vacation.

The Tyer Rubber Co. has finally made a decision to shut down for two weeks beginning July 30. The annual vacation period was delayed due to the heavy amount of orders received and the desire to keep the machinery in operation.

25 Years Ago — July, 1952

The scorching heat wave which has lasted for the past eight days has resulted in record consumption of water. The Haggetts pond station pumped 23 million gallons during this period.

Pipe for the extension of the new 16-inch water line from Haggetts to the south section of Andover has arrived and will be put in place in August. The project began in 1945.

Over 400 boys and girls from the town playgrounds participated in the annual outing at Canobie Lake park last Tuesday, with the buses leaving at 8 a.m. and returning at 4.

Miss Carol Paradise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Paradise of Hidden Field, was among those attending the Royal Garden Party at Buckingham Palace, July 17.

John Adams, 15 Stratford

Road, has entered the race for State Senator from this district and will be the Republican candidate for nomination in the September primary.

10 Years Ago — July, 1967

Robert T. Linwood and Shirley R. Walsh from Connecticut, will address a public meeting on the ungraded system, sponsored by the school department, at the South school next week.

Cost to Andover for operation of the regional vocational school last year was $43,405.90. The town's share of the capital debt was $17,531.33.

While the Cross street site appears to be the best for a new school, the school committee has asked the site selection committee to intensify its search for another west end location.

Bids on the Bancroft school have been called and are due by Aug. 17 in order to be presented to a special town meeting later in the month.

Western Electric Co., has announced that it paid $3,296,084, to suppliers in the Andover area during the past fiscal year.

License Award Policy Is Due

If the package store license floating around due to an increase in Andover's population is awarded, it probably won't be until late November.

A formal decision on a policy for awarding package store licenses will be acted upon Monday night by the selectmen, who this week asked the town manager to set up a time table for the granting of such a license, probably at the last formal meeting of the board in November.

Selectman Richard J. Bowen who has been opposed to the granting of another package store license, for at least six months, based on economic considerations, as well as the amount of other work facing the board, found little favor with his colleagues Monday night.

Bowen had suggested a week ago that the license not be made available for at least six months, a matter town counsel has found a perfectly legitimate move for selectmen as the licensing board to make.

Monday night Bowen again pointed to the workload facing the selectmen, and the fact that there would appear to be sufficient package stores in Andover already to meet the needs of the community. He suggested the license not be made available for at least six months.

The license is available due to an increase in population based on the last certified census.

There has apparently been some interest in the license. In the past, the board has advertised its intent to award a new license, then receive applications for review. It has been a time consuming process on occasion.

Monday night, at the board's conference session, Selectman Edward M. Harris said he didn't think the board should make "that arbitrary a decision," referring to Bowen's suggestion. Selectman Albert Cole simply said he didn't go along with Bowen's thoughts on the matter.

Selectman Philip Salamone said he felt Bowen's thoughts were based on economic considerations. "My only problem is I don't feel I know enough about the matter and think maybe the market can take care of itself."

Chairman Susan T. Poore said she did not have knowledge of marketing principles in the matter, but felt that if the license was to be awarded, "how do we proceed in an orderly manner," noting the procedure had been disruptive and chaotic in the past.

Salamone suggested the town manager establish a timetable.

Bowen said, "no matter how well you plan, you will spend an inordinate amount of time on the awarding of a license — more time than we will have available the next six months." He said the board was assigning the manager an impossible task.

Town Manager Austin, in reply to a questing from Salamone, said he didn't feel the board should entertain action on a new license until after the October town meeting, adding that in January, the board would be in the midst of planning for the next annual town meeting.

It was then decided to ask the manager to set up some sort of procedural pattern for the awarding of the license, with the last of November as the target date for the vote.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Mattresses the Villains

by Jack Anderson
with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON -- There could be more prison fires like the recent inferno that killed 42 people in Tennessee. Most of the victims died from inhaling toxic fumes which came from burning mattresses in prison cells.

The mattresses were made of polyurethane foam padding. Polyurethane padding, when it's burned, produces billows of black smoke. It contains toxic gases, including cyanide.

Anyone who breathes the poisonous fumes will die in a matter of minutes. Even a whiff of the smoke can lead to serious sickness. Yet hundreds of prisons throughout the country use these dangerous foam mattresses.

A careless cigarette or a smoldering match could turn these prisons into death traps. In fact, the Tennessee tragedy isn't the first one. Inmates in Florida, Maryland and North Carolina jails have died from similar smoke fumes.

Rep. Christopher Dodd, D-Conn., has conducted his own quiet campaign to reduce the polyurethane danger. He has contacted the authorities in all 50 states. He got back favorable responses from 42 states, one of which, ironically, was Tennessee.

The authorities responsible for buying mattresses for the Tennessee state prisons wrote to him 10 months ago. They promised to test alternative bedding material for the prisoners.

But they delayed too long. A few weeks ago, some of those deadly mattresses caught on fire. And 42 inmates and visitors died from the poisonous gases.

Bicentennial Footnote: The Bicentennial ended last year, but it took until this month to close down the Bicentennial Administration. In fact, not all the bureaucrats are off the payroll yet. Some are staying on as employees of a transition team, which is mopping up the final details.

The Bicentennial Administration cost the taxpayers $52 million. Another $22 million was earned from souvenir sales and book royalties. Of the $74 million total, only $1 million will be turned back to the government.

The money has just been delivered to the Interior Department, which is already looking for ways to spend it. The department wants to invest $350,000, for example, to build a memorial to the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

Dirty Tricks: Several Democratic Congressmen have complained to us that the Republicans are up to their dirty tricks again.

A GOP news team, known as "News from the Other Side," has been broadsiding Democratic opponents with critical press releases. The truth is, the "News from the Other Side" team is really the public relations arm of the National Republican Congressional Committee.

Rep. Joseph Ammerman, D-Pa., one of those attacked, was so outraged over the duplicity that he fired off a blistering letter to Rep. Guy Vander Jagt, R-Mich., who is chairman of the GOP committee. Ammerman warned that the press releases were the same sort of dirty tricks that led the Republican party into disrepute during the Nixon administration.

An unimpressed Vander Jagt ordered that the news service be continued.

Pentagon Pipeline: The Army is spending millions of dollars each year just to keep track of itself.

The Army's brass hats have devised a computer system, called "integrated facilities systems," to keep track of their $88 billion worth of equipment and facilities. Pentagon insiders refer to it simply as IFS.

Appropriately enough, IFS has raised some "ifs." For one thing, IFS cost $13.5 million just to set up. Then, like almost everything else in the military, it has proved more expensive than originally intended. Last year, for example, IFS cost the taxpayers $400,000 for overtime and miscellaneous expenses.

Several months ago, Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wisc., discovered that at least $1.5 million worth of Army equipment had been stolen at Fort Hood, Texas. The Congressman wanted the General Accounting Office to investigate, but the Army said it would do its own auditing.

Now Aspin has charged the Army with a "cover-up," and has asked for a meeting with Army Secretary Clifford Alexander. The Army's inspector general, meanwhile, says he is too busy investigating to talk to the Congressman.

President Carter recently created a blue ribbon panel to study the problem of "double dippers." These are retired military men who receive a pension check and work for the federal government at the same time.

One of the members of the new panel is retired Lt. Gen. Benjamin Davis. He has a great deal of expertise on the problem — he is a double dipper himself. The general collects an Army pension and a paycheck from the Transportation Department, where he works part-time as a consultant. When Davis turns 65, this December, he will also be entitled to Social Security.

Fourth Music

To The Editor of the Townsman

I think that rock and roll music is most inappropriate for the Fourth of July celebrations. Worse, I think it is terrible the way they have it blaring all afternoon so that anyone within a mile radius of the park hears it.

I would strongly suggest that the people who plan the Fourth of July celebrations for 1978 limit the bands to those who play patriotic songs and, of course, the Caliope. Rock and Roll bands should be absolutely forbidden in the park on the Fourth. Would it hurt the young people of this town to hear some patriotic music on one day of the year? After all, they have all the rest of the summer to listen to rock and roll, but not on our Nation's Independence Day.

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN

The other day, I hiked around Andover, beautiful time of year to do it.

It gave me pause, to think when I saw little pockets of land full of litter and cans. Its summer! If children, big sisters, brothers, parents and grandmothers, would volunteer to take a Brown Bag where ever they are and pick up. One can make it fun too — this would help stop pollution and make Andover a truly lovelier place to hike and jog in.

Memorial Hall Library

Original Art For Loan

Would you like to change the paintings on your wall for the summer — have a nice cool landscape or a scene of a Maine harbor to look at? The Library has a new collection of original art by many fine local artists, and some by well-known artists in nearby communities. You can have an original for two months for a five dollar fee and you can select from a collection of thirty paintings and five photographs. Here are some of the artists who have contributed to the Library art collection: Marietta Amy, Alicia Atkinson, Anne Ballou, Joy Biddle, Ruth Hatton, Rose-Elaine Landry, Joffre LeFevre, Jan Miller, Camillo Petri, Joan Rademacher, Cory Staid, Jane Trumbore and Ruth Wierenga. Come in to the Library soon and have your choice of the new collection for your own home or summer cottage.

Police Department Study Available

The Public Administration Service (PAS) study of the Andover Police Department is now available at the Library. This comprehensive report, completed in May 1977, evaluates the organization, management, and operations of the department. So that it will be available at all times, the report must be used in the Library only.

Children's Room News By Ruth Hooten

Registration for both Summer Reading Clubs is now closed. Both groups have been completely filled and we are unable to accept any more children. If you were unable to attend this year's Summer Reading Club, you may not have to wait another year to attend a book club. VIBOR will be starting up again this Fall and interested readers are always welcome. But even if you are not in one of the reading clubs, you should drop by the Children's Room this summer. We can always suggest a good book for your own summer reading program.

On Monday, July 25 at 2:00, we will be showing the movie "The Errand Boy" starring the zany Jerry Lewis. The movie will last about 1 1/2 hours. As usual tickets will be given out at 1:30 to children ages 5-12 years. On Tuesday, July 26 at 10:00 there will be another preschool storyhour. Story Garden is a 45-minute storyhour that includes stories, songs, games, crafts, and sometimes a movie. There is no registration required for children ages 3 1/2-5 years.

The next time you are in the Children's Room be sure to look at our new display, a collection of seashells lent to us by Ms. Alexandra Holbrook. Besides many familiar New England shells, Alexandra has quite a few exotic ones from around the world. After you see her collection, you may want to start one of your own this summer.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

Friday - July 22 - is the day of the Haven Rummage and Bakery Sale! Don't miss this special event, for Andover's older residents are among the best cooks in town and the items you find at rummage sales can indeed be treasures! This is a wonderful opportunity to help The Haven to earn money for those extras not available to them otherwise. Remember - all day Friday - July 22 - and the earlier the better.

Because of the special sale day there will be no Bingo at The Haven Friday afternoon.

There is one more Wednesday afternoon movie - July 27 - a presentation of Gauguin In Tahiti - 2 p.m. at The Haven. And it is air conditioned!

Dancing continues at The Haven every Tuesday afternoon at 1 p.m. Everyone dancing is asked to contribute fifty cents. It is fun and beginners are welcome.

There are still some reservations available for Bubbling Brown Sugar at the MNorth Shore Music Theatre in Beverly for the performance of Aug. 20. The price includes luncheon, a style show, transportation and the performance and is only $7.50. Stop by The Haven now for your reservation.

Limeys Ate Lemons

Citrus fruits proved to be lifesavers for early sailors. Before 1795, hundreds died from scurvy during long sea voyages. The British Navy solved the problem by adding limes and lemons to sailors' diets. That's how English sailors got the nickname "Limeys."

Dividend

Directors of Reichhold Chemicals, Inc. today declared a regular quarterly dividend of 18 1/2 cents per share payable Aug. 15, to shareholders of record on July 29.

Reichhold (NYSE) produces specialty chemicals and resins for a wide variety of growing industries. Total sales for 1976 were $585-million.

Preventing Auto Theft

A good auto theft crew can break into your car in seconds and strip it in a matter of minutes.

For professionals, auto and parts and accessories theft is a quick way to make a buck. For others, the thrill of joyriding in a stolen vehicle is too much to resist.

With computerized data banks, title and salvage laws, improvements in anti-theft devices and the like, the auto thief's job is becoming somewhat tougher. But auto theft still remains a problem.

The Automobile Club of Merrimack Valley says to avoid becoming the victim of would-be car thieves, remember:

— Never leave the ignition key in an unattended car. Even more important, don't leave the engine running while you dash into a store for a moment.

— Don't hide spare keys under the seat, behind the dash or in other "safe" places.

— Always lock doors and roll up windows when the car is parked. Lock the car even when you plan to be gone only a moment or two. Lock it, too, when it's parked in your own driveway or garage. Most car thefts occur in residential areas at night.

— Try to park in well-traveled well-lighted areas.

— Don't encourage thieves by leaving valuables exposed in a parked car, even when it's locked.

— When you leave the car in an attended parking lot, leave only the ignition key. Thieves have been known to duplicate other keys to gain access to homes and offices.

— Be extra security-conscious when parking near a sports arena, theater or other place where thieves can easily estimate how long you'll be gone.

— Don't abandon a car on the freeway or expressway if it breaks down unless absolutely necessary. Have a police officer or someone else call for help. If you must leave the car, be sure it's locked.

— Always keep the vehicle title in a safe place other than in the car. Don't leave credit cards or other such valuables in the car.

The club says it's also a good idea to mark accessories — radios, stereos, tape decks, CBs and the like — with your driver's license or social security number.

OBITUARIES

JAMES E. DOWNS

James E. Downs, 78, 130 Englewood Ave., Brookline, died Tuesday at New England Deaconess hospital, Boston, following a short illness.

A former long time resident of Andover, he was past master of St. Matthews Lodge A.F. and A.M. of Andover in which he held membership for over 50 years. He retired in 1962 from the credit department of First National Bank of Boston. He was a member of South Church.

He is survived by his wife, Anne (Macnair) Downs, a brother, Thomas A. Downs of Maryland, three sisters, Mrs. Kenneth Lore, Mrs. Kenneth Cunningham and Mrs. Daniel Miller, all of Maryland.

A memorial service will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. in South Church, Andover. Burial will be in Spring Grove cemetery.

At the request of the family there are no calling hours.

Contributions may be made to the Northeast Chapter, Mass. Heart Association, 79 North Main St., Andover, of the American Cancer Society, 226 Merrimack St., Lowell.

ELIZABETH R. MURRAY

Elizabeth R. Murray, 78, 78 Main St., Andover, died at Lawrence General Hospital Sunday, six days after she was admitted with a hip fracture sustained in an accident in Andover.

According to police, officers were detailed to Park and Main streets at 9 a.m. July 11 on the report that a woman had fallen down. Mrs. Murray was found lying on the street with her shoe off and her stocking torn. She was taken to the hospital by ambulance, police said.

Patrolman Lawrence Lynch is investigating whether Mrs. Murray was hit by a car. She apparently told hospital officials that she had been involved in a pedestrian auto accident, police said, but was not in good enough condition during her hospital stay to discuss the accident with the police.

Although police said there was no car at the scene of the accident, Mrs. Murray's daughter went to the police station the afternoon of the accident inquiring about a car that had reportedly hit her mother, police said. Of-

Births...

COSTELLO — A son, Kevin Crane, July 9, at Bon Secours hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Costello, 19 Stratford Road, Andover. The mother was Judith Crane.

HESENIUS — A son Jeffrey, July 16, at Melrose-Wakefield hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hesenius, Jr., 1 Delphi Circle, Andover. The mother was Catherine Dunning.

PROULX — A daughter, Kathleen Marie, July 12, at Winchester hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Norman R. Proulx, 5 Yardley Road, Andover. The mother was Maureen McKenna.

QUARTARONE — A son, Jason Joseph, July 13, at Bon DSecours hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Quartarone, 24 Riverina Road, Andover. The mother was Annette Palmer.

MOSKAL — A son, Adam Gary, July 18, at Bon Secours hospital, to Mr. and Mrs. Gary Moskal, 176 Shawshen Road, Andover. The mother was Deborah Nowles.

ficer Lynch is continuing his investigation, police said.

Born in Lynn, she had lived in Andover for the past 13 years and in Swampscott prior to that.

Mrs. Murray was the past president of the Parent-Teachers Association of Swampscott, a former member of the Women of Rosary in Swampscott, past president of the former Junior Every Day Club of Ayer, Mrs. Doris Halliwill of Lynn; nine grandchildren; and five great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be private. Burial will be in Pine Grove Cemetery, Lynn.

Funeral arrangements are being handled by Richardson's Funeral Home, 48 Lafayette Park, Lynn.

ALBERT R. JARDINE

Albert R. Jardine, 59, 122 Andover St., Ballardvale, a food services director died July 14 at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Brighton, after a short illness.

Born in Quincy, July 22, 1917, he was a former chef for 15 years at the Hasty Pudding Club at Harvard University. Mr. Jardine was employed as director of food services for Beverly Hospital.

Survivors include his wife, the former Phyllis A. Morgan; a son, Ross Jardine of Ballardvale; a sister, Ruth, wife of Thomas Sutton of Andover; several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Monday at 1:30 p.m. from the Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St. Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society, 226 Merrimack St., Lowell, or to the Diabetes Foundation, Boston, Mass.

RUTH HATTON

Mrs. Ruth (Jenkinson) Hatton, 12 Stratford Road, Andover, a well-known artist in the Greater Lawrence area, died Friday afternoon in Lawrence General Hospital following a short illness. She was 69.

Born March 2, 1908, in Dover N.H., she attended South Church in Andover. A member of the Andover Artists Guild, she designed the insignia for the Andover Haven senior citizen center and did art work for that organization.

A graduate of Massachusetts College of Art, Mrs. Hatton had been an Andover resident since 1932.

Survivors include her husband, Robert B. Hatton; a daughter, Miss Elizabeth A. Hatton, of Indiana, Alaska; two sisters, Miss Marion A. Jenkinson of Lawrence and Mrs. Doris Carter of Kissimmee, Fla.; and two grandchildren.

A memorial service will be held at a later date. Cremation was in Harmony Grove Cemetery, Salem.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Northeast

Chapter, Massachusetts Heart Association, 79 N. Main St., Andover.

Funeral arrangements are under the direction of the Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St.

EDITH G. GATES

Miss Edith G. Gates, 100A Washington Park, Andover, a retired Western Electric Company employee, died July 13 at Lawrence General hospital after a long illness.

She is survived by a brother, Parker E. Gates of Dracut; and a sister, Miss Dorothy M. Gates of Andover.

Funeral services were held Friday at 11 a.m. from the Joseph Dee & Son Funeral Home, Concord Center, Concord. Burial was in Sleepy Hollow Cemetery, Concord.

Selectmen

business of being a selectman and being a manager is not jollies. It's not a game. I take my job seriously and everything is on public record. When selectmen speak, it is on record and they best know that. If a selectman chooses to disagree, that's on record."

Salamone then interjected that he believed it is one thing to set policy, another to look into implementation. We went into how that contract was constructed. I don't think the selectmen should do that. It's within the purview of the manager."

Bowen returned, $202,000 was in the paper as the price for that contract. The manager asked for a bond of $290,000 and I understand there are contingencies and other costs. I asked for a breakdown, I found fault with one part of the contract. My finding fault with that section i no way reflected on the manager's ability to manage.

"There was no intent on my part to scuttle the project."

"When the manager provides detailed information as requested and this board says I must accept it, I say no."

Chairman Poore said she felt the matter revolved around the definitions of supervising and meddling.

"Supervision does not mean that the selectmen draw up a chair next to the manager and tell him which papers to examine. That's meddling and I reject that completely. Selectmen can question the manager on specific matters in their supervisory role," she said asking the manager to comment on some problems.

Harris said, "leave the manager out of this, the matter was handled badly," referring to the contract squabble of a week ago.

Leaves Saturday For Paraguay

Barbara Need, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Need, 13 Glen Meadow Road, is packing this week for a Saturday departure for Paraguay, where she will live with a Paraguayan family and attend school for a year.

She was assigned by Youth for Understanding, an international exchange program which gave a presentation at Andover High this spring.

In return, her family is expecting an exchange daughter, Susanne Stricker, who will arrive from Lubeck, Germany, in mid-August.

Barbara, who is a junior member of the National Honor Society, will graduate in absentia with her Andover High Class next spring, though she has enough credits to graduate now. She will likely delay college a while, because she is assuming the majority of the financial responsibility of her year abroad herself.

She knows nothing about her host family, but expects that they live in or near the capitol of Anuncion, where the population of Paraguay is concentrated.

Suzanne will probably not be able to get high school credit for the work she will do here, although YFU requires that she take English, literature and history.

Youth for Understanding is based in Ann Arbor, Mich., and there is an area representative in Boston.

Bowen said that the record simply showed, "I wasn't satisfied with the $27,000 supervisory fee."

Cole answered that "first you say the manager should simply inform us on administrative matters. Then when he does he gets jumped on."

"The record shows that isn't so," Bowen said.

"I can't recall when the board has said 'well done' to the manager," Cole responded.

"That's not so," Bowen shot back.

Chairman Poore then said if the board is not concerned about the manager and trying to help him, why did they spend hours identifying problem areas. Both Mrs. Poore and Bowen said the board had come up with rules to help the manager in putting items on the agenda, calling special meetings. They said they couldn't see how that represented picking on the manager.

Salamone said he could understand how the manager could get a 'gun shy' feeling, adding he wasn't satisfied that the awarding of the contract wasn't strictly an administrative practice. "I'd come before this board before taking action if I got that vote last week," Salamone said.

"What did that vote say?" Bowen asked. "It told the manager that one selectman was not satisfied with the supervisory portion of the contract, that's all. If that's meddling and anytime you can show that I'm meddling, you'll have my resignation then and there."

Cole then referred to the manner in which Bowen addressed the matter, as well as other issues. Turning to Mrs. Poore, he said, "you're discussing this in nice lady-like fashion, but now we're getting to talking loud." Looking at Bowen he said that the selectman had discussed the $27,000 provision in a "loud tone of voice."

"This borders on being ridiculous," Bowen responded.

"But the tone of voice has something to do with the way something is received," Cole said.

Mrs. Poore went back to the meddling vs. supervision matter, stating that "If I find fault with something, I'm not going to give up my right to question it, no matter what tone of voice is used." She was responding to Cole's contention that she had raised her voice in discussing the switch in direction of consultant services at the previous meeting. She had been critical of Austin's action on switching the direction.

With the direction of the conversation leading to no conclusions, the matter ended when Cole addressed Bowen, "you're a great orator, but I don't accept what you say."

Bowen said, "You're saying everything we do is aimed at the manager's head and it simply isn't so."

At one point Bowen had asked Austin if he wanted written directions, and the manager replied he probably could use some guidelines.

Avoiding Tomato Plant Diseases

This is the month when tomato plant diseases are most likely to appear, and the recent periods of alternating cold/dry and hot/wet weather have increased the likelihood.

There are measures you can take to keep tomato diseases to a minimum, suggests Warren P. Shepard, assistant director of plant pest control for the Massachusetts Food and Agriculture Department.

First, water tomato plants early in the day to allow the foliage time to dry before evening. Secondly, apply a layer of mulch to keep the soil evenly moist and avoid the dryness that can occur with barren soil.

Lastly, spray or dust with one of the all-purpose pesticides, made for tomato plants that contain both an insecticide and one or more fungicides, such as Captain, Ferbam, Folpet, or Maneb.

Some diseases, such as Fusarium Wilt, are often present in the soil and growing your tomatoes in a different location each year will help avoid this disease.

While it is probably too late for this season's planting, keep in mind that there are many disease resistant tomato varieties, such as Rutgers or Heinz, and you may want to consider them next year. A list of the most common tomato diseases and what to do about them is available at the Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture, 100 Cambridge Street, Boston.

The difference between a Mercedes-Benz lease and any other — is the Mercedes-Benz.

The car you lease does make quite a difference. After all, you don't drive the lease, you drive the car. And when you lease a Mercedes-Benz you drive something special indeed.

Whichever Mercedes-Benz model you choose, you drive one of the world's most respected automobiles. A car with legendary engineering, meticulous craftsmanship, outstanding performance and safety.

Something else: you'll drive the car you lease for two, three or even four years. Most cars look out of date all too quickly. But when you lease a Mercedes-Benz, you drive a car with classic lines and a timelessness that is never out of date.

We have several leasing plans to offer you. One is certain to make it more convenient for you to drive a Mercedes-Benz than you might have thought possible. Call us today for the surprising facts.

powered the American All-Star offense with a solo homerun, a double and a single.

Andy Emmert (Red Sox) chipped in a perfect 3-for-3 effort, including an RBI double and run-scoring single.

Dennis Glynn (Yankees) went 2-for-2 with a brace of singles and one RBI, and MacMillan helped his own cause with a two-run single.

Rounding out the assault with singles were Steve Johnson (Yanks), Dave Hering (Red Sox) and Matt Wells (Tigers).

Wells also starred defensively at second base for the All Stars.

Losing pitcher Mike Conway drilled a two-bagger and single for Lawrence Central, while Valentino added a double to his homerun.

The roster for the AL All-Stars includes Pat Beaudine, Jim MacMillan and Jeff Parker of the Indians, Marc Bolan, Sean Noone and Matt Wells (Tigers), Jeff Demers, Andy Emmert and Dave Hering (Red Sox), Dennis Glynn, Steve Johnson and Robbie Slayton (Yanks), Chris Coots (Orioles), J.R. Lindquist (White Sox) and Marty Yaghoorian (Twins).

The alternates are Keith Dyer, Pete Ouellette, Mike Pantaleo, Tom Powers, Robbie Ratelle and Scott Zimmerman.

Others among the select group of 23 who tried out for the team were Dick Kelley, Billy Vickers and John Robbins.

Bluegrass Group In Lawrence

Banjo Dan and the Midnite Plowboys, one of the foremost bluegrass music groups in New England, will perform this Friday night in Lawrence as part of Lawrence Intown's Street Scene '77. Based in Vermont, the Plowboys utilize a banjo, mandolin, fiddle, guitar, and bass in presenting a vast array of traditional, original, and contemporary tunes.

The performance will take place on Pemberton Street, next to City Hall, at 7 p.m. The street will be closed off to traffic from approximately 4:30 p.m. till the end of the two-hour concert.

Upcoming highlights of the Street Scene '77 series, which is being held in the heart of the Intown area throughout the summer on Tuesdays at 12 noon and Fridays at 7 p.m.

Le Car vs. La Competition

Americans are discovering what 1 1/2 million Europeans already know. When it comes to performance, economy, comfort and engineering, Le Car is in a class by itself.

About the only thing Le Car has in common with little cars is its size.

Only Le Car comes with front-wheel drive, rack and pinion steering, Michelin steel-belted radials, all standard.

The result is the kind of incredible handling and maneuverability that helped Le Car take first in its class in 12 out of 16 races last year.

The inside story of Le Car's success: comfort.

Our engineers designed a wheel-base that is even longer than some big cars. So Le Car's ride is amazingly smooth even on rough roads.

Le Car's interior is surprisingly roomy and very comfortable. To add to the fun, Le Car offers an optional gigantic sunroof. The others have nothing like it.

Test drive Le Car and you'll find out why it's Le Car Hot.

Free AM/FM Stereo Radio.

BUSINESS PROFILES

Jack Spires Paint & Wallpaper — Top Quality At Discount Prices

Your home is most likely your largest investment, so it makes good sense to protect its value. When you paint or wallpaper, use the finest materials - see Jack Spires Paint & Wallpaper, 205 South Union Street, Lawrence. You will find the top brand names in exterior paints, interior paints, wallpapers, all types of supplies needed for the job, plus expert advice that only years of experience in the business can give.

For your exterior paint for any type of home, Jack suggests Tru-flex acrylic latex house paint by Touraine. Touraine Tru-flex is made using the finest latex formulation available to the paint industry. It is ideal for wood siding, shakes, shingles, cement, asbestos shingles, masonry, aluminum siding, vinyl siding.

Touraine Tru-flex is the "All Weather Paint". Month after month, year after year, Tru-flex retains that freshly painted look. It flows on smoothly, leaves no brush marks, dries in 30 minutes and you can clean up with soap and water. Paint over damp surfaces, even after a rainstorm, yet it wears longer, resists fading up to 50% longer.

Choose from handsome Early American Homestead Colors, a full range of traditional colors, or have Jack make up any custom color you desire. Coordinated Tru-flex primer is available for chalky, porous or eroded paint surfaces, also trim paints to complete your job with a professional look.

Interior painting and wallpapering problems can also be handled by Jack and his wife, Kay. Take your time and browse through top name wallpaper books, or take a few books home and let the family choose. Custom paint shades and matching fabrics are a few of the extras available at this friendly shop.

Stop in soon for all your painting supplies, 205 South Union Street, Andover. Summer Hours: 8 - 5, Fri. 8 - 8, Closed Sat. at noon. Tel. 683-4371.

Down through the ages rabbits have been associated with good luck because they produced large numbers of offspring which meant they had a procreative power superior to other animals, Massachusetts Audubon says. The rabbit's foot therefore became a talisman for success and prosperity.

Labor Board Decision To Be Appealed

The decision of the Labor Relations Board which found the town had violated contract provisions in placing civilians on fire station desk duty, instead of firefighters, will be appealed to the Superior Court.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin was given unanimous approval by the selectmen Monday night to proceed with the petition to the court, following a lengthy executive session with Atty. Michael Gilman who has represented the town in the labor dispute.

The LRB has ruled that the town acted improperly in placing civilians on desk or dispatch duties two years ago. At the time Town Manager Austin placed CETA employees on the job, to eliminate overtime in the department.

The LRB found the practice not only wrong, but further ordered that firefighters be provided back pay, a provision which could cost the town in the vicinity of $90,000.

Monday night, Selectman Philip Salamone made the motion to appeal the case to the Superior Court.

Before voting on the issue, Selectman Richard J. Bowen said he was "distressed and dismayed that we have reached a point where we must look to a third party to resolve a problem."

Bowen also commented on the town being compelled to pay for services not rendered and being unable to maximize people at the lowest cost.

As for the proceeding to court action Bowen said he approved, "convinced that the selectmen had made a bona fide effort to resolve the issue without going to litigation."

Selectman Edward M. Harris said he concurred with Bowen's statements.

Efforts were made to negotiate the issue between the firefighters and the town, not only at an administrative level, but by private third party suggestion.

No agreement on the issue could be reached.

Ceta employees were assigned the task of manning the desk and releasing firefighters to engine company or ambulance duties two years ago.

The firefighters union appealed the matter to the Labor Relations Board which found essentially that the town had not bargained the placement of civilian employees.

An initial finding favoring the firefighters was appealed to the full board which upheld the original decision.

Contract negotiations between the firefighters and the town have been going on for over a year and a half, with the union at present seeking final and binding arbitration on a new pact.

B.U. Club To Hold Picnic

The Boston University Club of Osgood Hill will hold its annual summer picnic on Sunday, July 31st, at the Osgood Hill Conference Center in North Andover. The picnic, which is a family affair, is open to graduates and students of Boston University who live in the communities north of Boston.

The picnic is held yearly at the spacious Steven's estate in North Andover, which was donated to the University in 1952. A cookout meal is planned along with some other special events. In addition to the cookout, participants can enjoy wandering about the beautiful grounds, and taking part in games which this year will be supervised by Dr. John Cheffers of Boston University's School of Education.

The summer picnic is just one of several events staged annually by the Osgood Hill alumni group. Planned for the upcoming year are a fall sports night, a Christmas Cheer party, a wine-tasting party, and a spring brunch. All area graduates who are interested are invited to take part in any or all of these events.

Information concerning the July 31st picnic can be obtained by calling Boston University.

Dinsmore In Navy Exercise

Navy Fireman Michael A. Dinsmore, son of Margret E. Dinsmore of 10 Ashard St., North Andover, recently participated in Exercise "Readiex 4-77" off the Southern California coast.

He is serving as a crewmember aboard the guided missile cruiser USS Fox, homeported in San Diego.

He was one of more than 10,000 men who took part in the seven-day exercise, which included 25 ships and 100 aircraft. The exercise was part of the continuing training program for Fleet units and was designed to test their readiness and capability to conduct air, surface and antisubmarine operations.

Additionally, his ship was one of seven U. S. ships which participated in the Vancouver Sea Festival in Vancouver, Canada during July. He and his fellow shipmates participated in parades, athletic meets and other events during the ten-day festival.

A 1974 graduate of North Andover High School, he joined the Navy in June 1974.

The Department of Interior and the National Parks Service are using electric cars for gathering refuse, maintenance work and transporting cargo and people. Fuel costs are 1¢ a mile. The cars and buses are non-polluting, easy to service and cause little damage to grass or tree roots, Massachusetts Audubon tells us.
